

The NEBCA Education committee presents:

An Evening with Bill Fosher on Grazing Management for Sheep

When Sunday April 11th 7-9 pm

Where On Zoom.

Get ready for the 2021 grazing season! Bill has been grazing sheep for 30 years and has made a lot of mistakes -- learn from his so you don't have to repeat them! We'll talk about the links between soil health, forage production, and animal health and explore ways to keep your pastures productive even during droughts. And we'll touch on resources that are available to you to help you plan and implement an improved grazing management system on your farm. Submit your questions beforehand if you like, and you'll have the opportunity to ask questions during the session. Bill is the lead conservation planner for the NH Association of Conservation Districts.

Limit:25 participants

Fee: $10

Whether you have 5 sheep or 500, this is a great opportunity to figure out how to best care for your pastures and your sheep for long term sustainability and health. It should be particularly helpful for folks who have small holdings.
