For the twelfth consecutive year handlers from 16 States and 3 Canadian Provinces gathered at Sheepy Hollow Farm for the Annual PA State Championship Trial, very capably judged by Bud Boudreau of Marcus, S.D.

Friday the Nursery Classes entertained a total of 81 competitors for the four classes offered. The day was bright and sunny, a beautiful day for a trial and the friendly, competitive atmosphere was a true "Joy" both in the sponsorship and competition.

Northeast Independence Day Trial Altamont, NY July 3-5, 1993

by Barbara Means

Hot as a firecracker was the First Annual Northeast Independence Day Trial at the Canaday Farm near Altamont, NY on July 3, 4 and 5 where fifty Barbados sheep, recently arrived from Virginia, declared their independence. Two fields were used simultaneously. Open and Ranch handlers ran in a long, broad field while the Novice handlers had a smaller course with no less emphasis on being "on-line". Open handlers took turns judging the Novice Classes, sometimes adjusting their own running orders to finish the judging.

Warren Mick, ably assisted by Maria, did a splendid job managing his first novice trial as did Mike Canaday, assisted by his wife, Pat, and John Roche. Nathan Mooney judged the Open and Ranch Classes with consistency and fairness.

EDITORS' NOTES

Last month, Lynne ran out of room. Therefore, given the more important articles, she cut out fully two-thirds of the Editors' Notes. So what we have to say for this month may be a bit old, but, we think, still relevant. Plus we have another issue that must be brought to your attention. Now, we should all understand that these two editors are in the unique position of being able to voice our opinions and the only repercussions will be the heat we take after we distribute the newsletter. But, you are in the unique position of being able to ignore what we say. Therefore, we must together strike a very important balance -- we, keeping our own opinions to a minimum, bringing up issues that seem to have a larger audience; and you letting us know what are the important issues to you. Therefore, we try desperately to bring to your attention what is going on in our organization so that you can make your voice heard by the Executive Committee or the Board of Directors -- these are the people who set the direction for NEBCA.

Therefore, first on our list are the efforts by an individual or two to control the trial program. Particularly, what do you think when a trial manager's choice of a judge is challenged and he is forced to change judges at the very last moment? You will read in our By-Laws, and you will hear from all members who had a hand in the creation of NEBCA, that we cannot be a policing organization. Our trial "rules" are not rules but guidelines; our list of "approved" judges is only a list of suggested judges; our description of trial courses are only suggested courses. In these editors' opinion, it is tough enough to put on a trial (and thanks to all of you who go through that ordeal) that NO ONE has the right to demand how that trial will be run or by whom it will be judged. This smacks of the old days when judges were picked for who they knew NOT what they knew.

Second on our list is the Breeders Directory. For as long as there has been a Newsletter, we have published a list of people who wanted to be called breeders and were willing to pay an extra $10.00. There were no controls placed on the list, only a disclaimer that "buyer beware". However, now that we are all anxious to encourage responsible breeding, there are many who would like to shorten the list by eliminating all but the "serious" breeder (I am assuming that the motives of these people are not personal). Suggestions have come in to increase the fee to $100.00, which will surely eliminate all but those breeders who breed enough litters to cover this decadent price. How about you? Do you want to see a list that includes even the "hobby" breeder, or would you like to see the list pared down to only the serious, multi-litter breeders? Write to your officers and let them know.

Finally, PLEASE SEND US PHOTOS for publication! The

Cummington Eye Clinic

by Dee Woessner

The Eye Clinic held at the Cummington Trial on May 29 was a resounding success. Many thanks to the people who helped fill out forms and put in eye drops - Michael Dathe, Edie Overly, Sally Lacy, Lynn Deschambeault and Jean Kennedy put in a long day. And further thanks to Becky Peterson who arranged for the clinic to be held at the Cummington Trial and found us a building to use. Dr. Donovan tested 81 dogs between 10:30 a.m. and 5:30 p.m. with only a short break for lunch (and used as much care with the last dogs as with the first).

The clinic was a bargain because the American Border Collie Association gave funds to help lower the cost. Although the vet charged $14 per dog, people paid $13 for their first dog and $12 for additional dogs; some people had as many as five tested. Several people said that they got more of their dogs tested because of the low price. We are even going to be able to return about $50 of the ABC money that was unused - maybe they will give it back to us next year for another worthwhile project.

Of the dogs tested, 71 were Border Collies. (Other breeds, unsubsidized, were charged more.) Dr. Donovan found five Border Collies with problems. One had cataracts, and four had retinal dysplasia. Three of the four cases were moderate, one more severe. All results were confidential. Dr. Donovan reported only the totals when the clinic was over.

Retinal dysplasia is a congenital maldevelopment of the retina. It is an inherited defect. In a severe case there may be complete retinal detachment and the dog will be blind, but a mild case may be discovered only with an exam. Since it is due to a recessive gene, dogs can be carriers without showing any sign at all even in an exam, but their puppies may have the disease. Dogs with the disease and dogs known to produce affected puppies should not be used for breeding. If a young puppy (6-8 weeks) appear to exhibit RD, another exam should be given when the dog is older. Folds in the retina due to differential growth can resemble RD but may disappear. In that case, the dog did not have RD and the early signs were not indicative of a genetic problem. (Information obtained from the Merck Veterinary Manual and Dr. Donovan.)

Massachusetts Sheep and Woolcraft Fair Sheep Dog Trial

Cummington, MA May 29-30, 1993

Judge: Mike Canaday

by Becky Peterson

After weeks of planning and nail-biting, the 20th Annual Massachusetts Sheep and Woolcraft Fair and Dog Trial went off without a hitch. This proved to be the biggest trial Cummington has ever seen with 52 nursery dogs and 50 dogs in the Open Class. Handlers mostly came from New England, Pennsylvania, New York and Quebec. Their participation is most appreciated. The Judge for the weekend was Mike Canaday, with the exception of the Pro-Novice Class which was judged by Cheryl Jagger Williams.

The weather was great for all concerned except overnight on Saturday when the temperature dropped to 32 and those in tents were a little chilly.

The sheep belonged to Mike Canaday and worked very well in groups of five for the Nursery Trial. The number was reduced to four for the Open Trial, and they proved to be slightly more testy and less forgiving but not as hard, as the narrow gates erected on the course intended to sort out the runs a little. And sort them out it did, with a few very smooth runs heading the top of the list.

The trial also hosted an eye clinic coordinated by Dee Woessner. Eighty-four dogs were tested throughout the day with a low percentage of dogs with problems.

After the conclusion of the Nursery Trial on Saturday, everyone ate their fill at the potluck dinner and then enjoyed a few hours at the square dance called by local great Bob Livingston.

Our hats are off to everyone who helped make this trial a success again. The sheep crew (Hoop Peterson assisted by Warren Mick, Dick Williams, Craig Flynn) got the sheep out in a timely manner and they were set out quietly by Cheryl Jagger Williams, Dick Williams, Beverly Lambert, Betty Levin and Steve Wetmore. Debbie Merrill helped at the exhaust along with Chalmers Means and others. Scores were kept well and posted soon thanks to Barbara Means, Barbara Armata and Kathy Deschambeault. Many thanks to those handlers who kept the microphone going throughout the two days. And then there are the faithful few who always help with the last minute jobs like setting up the course and the exhaust pen where the ground is incredibly BONEY. Michael Dathe even came a day ahead of time to help out and ALSO stayed late to help pick up the aftermath. Thanks Michael! We owe a vote of thanks to all of our helpers because they are the ones that make it go. Thanks again.

Following are the results. Judge for Novice, Ranch and Open: Mr. Mike Canaday, Altamont, NY. Judge for Pro-Novice: Cheryl Jagger Williams, Hop Bottom, PA. All ties, unless otherwise noted, were broken by outwork.

Connecticut Nursery Trials

Portland, CT

April 18, 1993

by Carol Campion

They all said it was spring, but it was pretty hard to believe. For the first half of the day, it was rainy, drizzly, windy and raw. But by early afternoon, the gods smiled upon us! The skies cleared, the sun appeared and we completely enjoyed the opportunity to be outside. These early spring trials are great. This was the first time many of us got to see each other since the Annual Meeting and/or the Connecticut Winter Trials. Sometimes it's hard to recognize each other without layers and layers of heavy clothing on!

As in the previous year, the trial on Sunday was preceded by a two-day handling clinic instructed by Bruce Fogt. The trials that immediately follow these clinics show marked improvement by those that attend and that is reflected in the high scores that are usually earned. That is the case once again here. Our thanks to Bruce Fogt, and to our host, Joanne Krause, for the use of her field. It is a great trial field with plenty of room. Our thanks to Tim Milleville for the use of his wonderful Cheviot sheep. Though there were only 20 of them, they moved consistently and freely throughout the day.

The results are as follows:

Novice

1. Chalmers Means	Hope	71.5
2. Jean Kennedy	Max	68.5

Cape Cod Stock Dog Trial

June 12-13, 1993

Judge: Roger Deschambeault

by Lin Reuther

Nursery class handlers from all over the Northeast came to West Barnstable, MA for a delightful weekend of trialling (no one even considered going to the beach - that's how dedicated we are!). The trial was held on a lovely field - fenced, wide, good for nursery dogs. Roger Deschambeault's sheep worked very well (especially when the dogs worked well!), and were consistent throughout the weekend (with the possible exception of the group his wife, Kathy, drew on Sunday, which split on the fetch, allowing her to show off Kate's "look back" command beautifully!). Roger also provided two days of excellent judging. He often gave handlers constructive help and tips after each run was finished. The weather was wonderful - cool and misty Saturday with sun breaking out late in the day, then sunny but not too hot on Sunday. And, of course, the camaraderie and fun so often present at nursery trials were there in full measure!

After the regular classes ended on Saturday, non-competitive runs were held. Handlers could enter their dogs in any class, and it was great fun to try out a higher level. Roger graciously judged these runs, giving each dog a total score only, along with more comments. These runs were enjoyable and helpful for all!

Jean and Joe Kennedy managed the trial beautifully, with help from Rich Seaman and other Cape Cod stock dog enthusiasts. Everything ran smoothly. They even arranged for snacks and lunch to be available, and for a wonderful, inexpensive seafood dinner Saturday night at a local restaurant.

Everyone is already looking forward to next year's trial (and maybe we'll stay on the Cape an extra day and get to the beach)!

NEBCA Library Update - June 1993

by Lin Reuther

The Library has been quite active this spring - thank you to all our borrowers! This is a great time to borrow a book or video to help in your training and handling of these Border Collies or to pick up a tip or two if you're an inexperienced handler. Please let us hear from you if you want to use the Library.

Due to interest expressed on NEBCA Membership forms, the Library will be acquiring a book on agility for dogs and also one on search and rescue. Some of our new members want to do these activities with their BC's - we know these dogs will be good at them! So write in if you'd like to read either of these!

The Glyn Jones' tapes are again available for borrowing - thanks to our Mass. members for returning these popular video tapes.

Hope to hear from you soon.

VIDEO REVIEW - Rural Route Video, "Training and Working A Border Collie"

Reviewed by Karl Van Valkenburgh

It seems that every B.C. film I watch has something to recommend it. The Rural Route video starts out with a review of the background of B.C.'s in the British Isles, then moves to beautiful Nova Scotia where the narrator gives some good advice on their housing. He also dwells at some length on the variety of temperments found in the breed and how training should be tailored to each animal's peculiarities. Some valuable advice there. The remainder of this very long tape is taken up with the come-byes and way-to-mes (all well done) and, best of all, lots of B.C.'s in action.

Tony Collins Tapes

by Carol Loehr (Novice Handler)

These tapes were by far the most useful to me. There's a lot there about his concepts of total training that seem to work on the dog I have - a very willful male - the growling sanction worked on him when all else had failed.

VIDEO REVIEW: Training the Working Stock Dog, by ElvinKopp

Reviewed by Becky Peterson

Not having watched very many videos, I wasn't able to compare this program to others, but I felt that this was a very good demonstration of training a stock dog. The video opens with very scenic views of B.C.'s and men on horseback working beef cattle. The picture quality and sound were good, and the instructor wore a microphone so that the viewer hears everything going on between the handler and the dog and gets a feel for when the commands should be given.

This program explains the heading instinct and the dog's desire to bring stock to the handler. Elvin touches on why the stockman gets frustrated with the dog that keeps bringing the stock back out of the chute while the man keeps trying to get them in there. I thought that was an important point to make, as that seems to be the problem of many beginners, especially farmers. He explains correcting your dog in dog language, mainly by eye contact and growling in dog fashion. It appears to be very effective. He explains balance using the "clock" and the dog's desire to be on balance as a way of training. Elvin emphasizes distance and keeping the dog back off of the stock as being the most important trait after the dog's instinct itself and demonstrates how to get that distance. He wants the dog to control the stock with his sense, confidence and power, as opposed to his teeth. He doesn't hurry the dog and stresses that he wants to make it as easy as possible for the dog to understand what it is he wants. He doesn't press for side commands until the dog can stay off of his sheep, make a good outrun and read his sheep.

On the negative side (if you want to call it that), the dogs used in this tape mostly seemed to already know the job to some extent so that the obstacles in their training aren't as readily apparent. They make it look pretty easy.

All in all, I feel that this was a good program to watch. The instructor seems to have a good relationship with his dogs and works quietly with them. The corrections given were not stressful and were effective. I felt the explanations were very understandable and that this tape would be an excellent help to the beginning handler and the very experienced also.

 This tie was broken by a full course run-off.Glyn Jones' Tapes: "Come Bye! And Away" and "That'll Do!"Reviewed by Becky Peterson*

This tape was more "entertaining" than the other two (Kopp) that I viewed. The first tape I found to be somewhat disappointing (compared to his book). I did appreciate his feelings on waiting till a dog is READY to train. More people should. These tapes are a little more realistic in that these young dogs are really green; i.e., I don't think the dogs had been schooled much to prepare for the tape. I think the novice handler with the young, unbroke dog will be able to identify with this 1st tape more than with Elvin Kopp's though I don't know whether "Come Bye! And Away" will be as useful.

"That'll Do" was a little more valuable but maybe not as much as I would like.

Friday night dinner by Eleanor Jagger with pot luck help fed about 124 people. Pot Luck brings out some of the best of everything and was enjoyed by all.

Saturday dawned bright and warm with a gentle breeze making a beautiful day for our Sponsor, Joy Dog Food by Best Feeds of Oakdale, PA and the Co-sponsor, the First Universalist Church of Brooklyn, PA. The Church presented a lovely, tasty chicken barbecue and food for both days. A huge tent and bleachers provided a place to watch the events announced by the Jagger Sons Dick and Alan. Many great runs by the competitors made it necessary to have a minimum of 100 pts to be even in the top 10.

Final Results were:

Sunday - Another beautiful day started with a Church Service under the big tent with Rev. Christianson of the First Universalist Church presiding. It was very well attended and inspirational. A more beautiful setting with a green pasture and sheep in the background could hardly be imagined. A beautiful way to start the day.

The Results: 110 possible pts with 99 needed to be in top 10

1. Beverly Lambert	Jet	106
2. Beverly Lambert	Lark	106
3. Walt Jagger	Celt	106

A very unusual happening at the end - 3 dogs were tied for first place at 106 pts and two dogs, Jagger's Celt & Lambert's Lark, had identical two-day scores. A run-off put Jet in 1st, Lark 2nd and Celt 3rd, with Bev Lambert's Lark getting the two-day Overall Championship and Walt Jagger's Celt Overall Reserve Champion.

Walt Jagger's Celt was Overall High-Scoring Mid-Atlantic Champion and Cheryl Williams' Kim won Overall High-Scoring Mid-Atlantic Reserve Champion.

Twenty-four trophies were awarded plus 60 Ribbons and 60 awards of Dog Food from Joy plus well over $4500 in cash awards distributed to lucky handlers.

The Jagger Family thanks all who helped to make this such a great fun trial.

Over 30 days of Nursery Trials offered in 1993 Season! A Great Year.

Handlers, please remember to be very careful with those "non-competitive runs". We would like to see everyone get their money's worth for all the travelling involved with getting to the trials. It's great to give the young dogs as much experience away from home as we can give them. It is suggested that trial managers offer a "non-competitive" class to be run after all of the three sanctioned classes have run. You may then enter your dog in whatever class you wish and it won't count for points or move you up. You may not, however, run your dog competitively after you have him in a non-competitive run, on the same field at the same trial. This would give him an unfair advantage over the other dogs. Hence, the "non-competitive" class is after all normal runs.

If you choose to move your dog up a class before he has earned the 30 points, you may do so, but you may not go back down again if it is a sanctioned trial class. Also, the 30 points is pre-requisite for receiving your certificate of merit.

It was requested that we re-state some of these issues clearly from time to time. Our thanks for your patience if you are already familiar with the program.

Anyone having questions is encouraged to contact the Nursery Trial Committee members listed below. All trial managers have a copy of the "Guidelines and Suggestions" from NEBCA. If you need another copy yourself, please ask any of us for it!

And - keep up the good work! There are a lot of good dogs and good new handlers on the scene this year!
